Marcus Campbell

Submitted by Chris Kramer

Marcus Campbell has been a mentee and student of mine since 2020. In these few years I have come to know Marcus well, as a student, as a philosophy student, and most importantly, as a person deeply and genuinely interested in philosophy and how the discipline is connected to his own life. He recognizes how it connects to others as well. This is revealed with his participation and great successes in multiple winning Ethics Debate teams. His contributions there, along with his participation in the Philosophy Club, highlight his intellectual acumen as well as his collaborative, easy-going, yet analytical style of engagement with others. Marcus has overcome numerous obstacles with grace, humility, intelligence, and kindness. He's outstanding!
